

No idea where to study?

I think I can help you

YOU'RE A STUDENT WHO HAPPENS TO STUDY
TRANSCULTURAL COMMUNICATIONS IN VIENNA...

...and for you, studying at home is not an option because:

- a) you'd like to avoid your roommate at all costs
- b) the barking dog/crying baby next door is at it all day, all night
- c) there are annoying party people next door
- d) after two years of lockdown you grab any chance just to be anywhere else but home (even if it's for studying)
- e) all of the above

...and you have no idea where to prepare for a group project and your place is out of the question because:

- a) There's NO WAY you let complete strangers into your private space
- b) Your place is a mess, your couch turned into a laundry monster and it would def take at least 3 days just to wash all the dirty dishes...
- c) Your place is soo faaar awaaay from literally everything

I may have some alternatives for you

Winter Semester

In the CTS

LIBRARY

- > Open Mon-Thu (except on holidays) from 9am to 6pm & Fri 3pm (always check it beforehand)
- > Show your u-card to get a key for a locker where you can leave your stuff (bag, coat)

Pros

- The perfect place if you have to do some research for a class or if you just have some time between two lectures
- No distractions

Cons

- ALWAYS check out the current COVID-19 hygiene rules e.g. seat reservation, masks, test etc. (bc they change constantly...)
- NO SNACKS

GALLERY@AUDIMAX main entrance

- Lots of chairs to sit and desks to study too
- They offer extra space for group projects
- Bit noisier than the library tho

BONUS

Nuss Café

Nußdorfer Str. 9, 1090 Vienna

- My personal recommendation ❤️
- BEST COFFEE in the area
- BEST PLACE for a meeting
- NICEST staff ever (won't bother you every 10 min to see if you want to order anything else...)
- Not so busy even during lunch time → you always find a free table (not like in Starbucks)
- 14 min walk from the CTS or 8 min with the U6 or tram => sooo much closer than your place (fortunately...)

Summer Semester

Around the CTS

Währinger Park

- For students who like to study outside
- It's just 300 meters from the CTS
- Ample space
- You can sit down on a bench or even on the grass to study or to read a book ALONE
- peaceful & quiet

Courtyard

- Bit of green between the three buildings
- Ideal for :
 - a quick lunch you bought from the vending machine
 - or for a quick smoke between lectures
 - study groups
- If you're lucky you can see squirrels

Laus & Maus

Semperstraße 64A, 1180 Vienna

- CUTE café in the middle of the park
- Open Mon-Sun from 11am to 6pm
- Outside seating area => you can avoid inviting people over to your place
- You can sit down with your peers to discuss a group project or to study together
- Homemade cakes, organic products with vegan options
- It's a really small café so a reservation is recommended
